

SHINGLE GIVEN CHARGE OF WAR SAVINGS DRIVE

The sale of war savings certificates in the territory of Hawaii will not start until after New Year's, unless Robert W. Shingle of the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company now on the mainland and yesterday appointed director of the campaign for the sale of the certificates in this territory, deputes someone in the city to represent him. It was learned this morning that Mr. Shingle is not expected to return till the middle of January.

Whether Mr. Shingle has been appointed under John S. Drum of San Francisco, who was given the position of director of California and Hawaii for the campaign of war savings certificates by the treasury department in Washington, or whether Mr. Shingle has been appointed for Hawaii in supreme charge and Mr. Drum now given only California to handle is not known, as the dispatch yesterday did not contain details.

Local businessmen who are anxious to have the war savings campaign started at once are contemplating sending a cable to Mr. Shingle asking him to authorize someone to act in his place here to open and conduct the campaign until he returns to Honolulu.

CONTRARY WINDS DELAY SCHOONERS FROM NORTH

Unexplainable contrary winds are being encountered by sailing vessels coming here from the Sound ports, which navigators are at a loss to understand as there should be favorable breezes at this time of the year.

It took the schooner Alice Cooke, which is now in port, 49 days to come here from Port Townsend, when she usually makes it in 24 to 28 days. The farthest distance travelled on the last voyage of the Alice Cooke in one day was 149 miles, and as is explained by Captain Burmeister, "most of this was in the wrong direction."

The contrary winds, or lack of them, is also said to be the reason it took the Annie Larsen 50 days to make the voyage from Grays Harbor.

Anderson, in charge of the San Francisco division.

The new policies go into effect on Jan. 1.

PEARL HARBOR RELAYS RADIO MANILA TO U. S.

High power Poulsen wireless plants now connect the Asiatic squadron with the national capital, by relay through the Pearl Harbor naval radio station, the San Diego station and the one at Saville, L. I., as the result of the completion of the last link in the chain between Manila and Washington.

Announcement of the formal opening of the Cavite station was made yesterday in Washington after a wireless greeting to the secretary of the navy was received from Admiral Knight. The message was relayed from Pearl Harbor to San Diego, and from there on to Washington by the way of Saville. The message was sent from the flagship of the admiral to the newly completed Cavite station and from there started on its half way round the world journey, over sea, mountains and plains.

After receipt of the message in Washington another one of congratulation was wireless back to the Asiatic commander by Secretary Daniels.

Captain Clark, commandant at Pearl Harbor, stated last night that he had no official knowledge of the exchange of messages between Admiral Knight and Secretary Daniels, but he had known of the official opening of the Pearl Harbor-Cavite radio service.

HONOLULU BOY MADE LIEUTENANT-COMMANDER

Lando of this city, who has just been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-commander. Commander Lando is at present attached to the Chattanooga as executive officer. Not so many years ago Lando was a McKinley High School student, but since then his rise has been rapid, a fact which has been a source of gratification to his many friends in this city.

EMBARGO ON RICE MAY BE ORDERED HERE

An investigation of the local rice situation is to be started shortly by Federal Food Administrator J. F. Child, with a view to putting a stop to shipments of Hawaiian rice to the mainland except in cases where there is a surplus after all island demands for the product have been met.

Administrator Child has learned of several instances where Hawaiian rice has been shipped to the mainland and then shipped back to the islands, an action which he considers an unwarranted waste of cargo space, especially in these times, when it is difficult to get any cargo space at all.

He is determined to find out who these shippers are and to put a stop to such shipments on the ground that Hawaiian rice should be kept at home until such a time as it has filled local demands. Then, he says, it would be permissible to ship the surplus to the mainland.

Administrator Child is of the opinion that there are several large handlers of rice here who have a cheap grade of rice on hand and who are selling it at a high price instead of on a basis of the original cost, in other words, he adds, they are realizing an abnormal profit instead of a normal pre-war profit.

Mr. Child says he is determined to go into the rice situation very thoroughly and determine the reason why rice is being sold at its present high price, find out whether the grower is receiving a fair return for his product and whether the middleman or the speculator as well as the dealer is making an abnormal profit.

HONOLULU BOY IS BADLY WOUNDED BY BOCHE SHELL

Lieutenant C. D. Stanley, a Honolulu boy and son of Judge W. F. Stanley of this city, who was recently reported seriously wounded while fighting in the front trenches in France, is now on the road to recovery. Judge Stanley received word a few days ago from his brother in France that Lieutenant Stanley was in an English hospital.

Lieutenant Stanley was commissioned in July, 1916, and went to England from Canada in April of this year. After further training he reached the front in August. Late in October a number of officers were asked to volunteer for special trench work and Lieutenant Stanley was one of these. A big shell exploding close at hand tore a hole in his side.

Late in November Judge Stanley received word from the war office that his son was dangerously wounded, so that the word which came a few days ago saying that he is well on his way to recovery was welcome news indeed not only to Judge Stanley himself but to the many friends of the Honolulu boy who has done "his bit" in France.
